shipit.to

Shipment Tags

Put A Tag On It

We're happy to announce we've now released a long-awaited feature to shipit.to - shipment tagging. With this release you and your coworkers can assign multiple tags to each shipment. These tags can assist with classification, filtering, and later retrieval of shipments in your account.
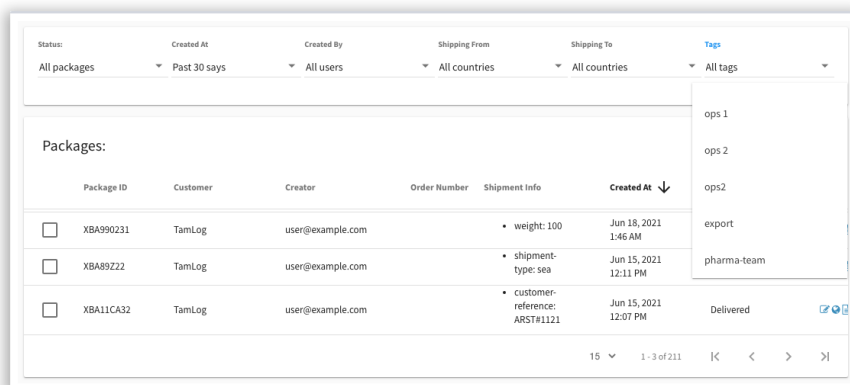

Tags are extremely flexible and convenient and can be used to denote departmental ownership, mark shipment characteristics, group shipments, and more.

Tags are an easy and efficient way for logistics and supply chain teams to manage and review their shipments faster.

Tags can be added or removed regardless of the shipment's current status and will help you to manage your shipments by facilitating lookup and filtering.

To that end we've added a new Tags filter in the shipment list screen which will work in conjunction with the existing filters.

Learn more at shipit.to

About the Shipit.to Platform

Shipit.to is a digital logistics platform for supply chain management & shipment tracking. With Shipit.to you have an affordable shipment-tracking solution that provides real-time information about your shipments' location and condition. Based on shipit.to's disposable trackers, this service enables companies of any size to join the IoT revolution and track their cargo.

Learn more at http://shipit.to/.

shipit.to